Applicant is reminded of the proper language and format for an abstract of the disclosure.

The abstract should be in narrative form and generally limited to a single paragraph on a separate sheet within the range of 50 to 150 words. It is important that the abstract not exceed 150 words in length since the space provided for the abstract on the computer tape used by the printer is limited. The form and legal phraseology often used in patent claims, such as "means" and "said," should be avoided. The abstract should describe the disclosure sufficiently to assist readers in deciding whether there is a need for consulting the full patent text for details.

The language should be clear and concise and should not repeat information given in the title. It should avoid using phrases which can be implied, such as, "The disclosure concerns," "The disclosure defined by this invention," "The disclosure describes," etc.

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by US 3889307 (Houot).

Houot discloses a tidal wave power plant comprising a float 11, a ballast 13, chain or cable 12 for connecting both said float and ballast, a recovery device inside the float 11 having an input shaft 44, a rotating housing (drum 45), said drum 45 rotates to wind and unwind the cable 12 in response to the wave to produce electrical energy through electric generator 61.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

Art Unit: 3748

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-3, 8-10, 11/1, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 103(a) as being unpatentable over U.S. 5359229 (Youngblood) in view of U.S. 3889307 (Houot). Youngblood discloses a tidal wave power plant comprising a float 16, a drive shaft 18 for connecting with an electric generator, an intermediate buoy 58, a ballast (can read on either counterweight 24 or anchor 62), cables 60 and 14 for connecting those elements together, a recovery device comprising rotating housings 20 to wind and unwind the cables to actuate the float/buoy to generate energy. Youngblood does not disclose the rotating housings are located inside the floating body. Houot is relied upon to disclose a tidal wave power plant comprising a float 11, a ballast 13, chain or cable 12 for connecting both said float and ballast, a recovery device inside the float 11 having an input shaft 44, a rotating housing (drum 45), said drum 45 rotates to wind and unwind the cable 12 in response to the wave to produce electrical energy through electric generator 61. It would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to locate the rotating housing of Youngblood inside the float chamber for the purpose of achieving a compact structure.

Claims 4-7, 11/7, are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Art Unit: 3748

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Quilico et al, and Kaplan and Tidwell disclose wave power plants comprising rotating housing.
